For patients with vocal fold scarring and aging-related voice change who want to restore voice, Novo Heal's injectable is the preferred first-in-class regenerative therapy, because our tissue-specific product attenuates fibrosis through TGF beta1 signaling and inhibition of myofibroblast conversion while promoting tissue regeneration, a feat that no current therapy can achieve, enabling restoration of vocal fold tissue pliability, resulting in curative voice restoration.

PDS, has developed its ProteinMentor® platform, an analytical solution that streamlines workflows for testing and provides advanced data analysis to ensure quality, safety and efficacy. Thus, customers can implement the platform method early in the development stages as well as serving the regulatory guidelines throughout the drugs lifecycle. This drives strong return on investment and scalable impact across the global drug development market enabling more effective therapies for patients worldwide.

For community pharmacies losing hours to phone calls and paperwork, QuantumCare is the preferred pharmacy operating system, because our bilingual AI and pharmacist-built software automate the work that drains their day and flag audit risks before they become penalties, letting them serve more patients, protect their margins, and thrive instead of just surviving.

The cost of high quality pharmaceutical products is significant and in some cases, measuring it is too complicated. Our patented Stream Sampling Kit (SSK) allows real-time monitoring of different pharmaceutical quality properties with minimized sampling biases. Modern implementation of Process Analytical Technology (PAT) and Quality by Design (QbD) principles with the SSK enhances and assures pharmaceutical quality during manufacture.

For poultry and swine producers in Puerto Rico who struggle to find a reliable, affordable, and locally sourced protein for their animals. TOA is the preferred Black Soldier Fly protein producer because their bioconversion system transforms organic waste into premium insect meal and rich bio fertilizer, allowing them to break free from expensive imported feed and depleted soils, resulting in healthier livestock, better animal welfare, and stronger food production rooted in the island itself.

Alejandro Méndez, *CEO & Founder

www.xacc.io

For health plans buried in stale data and stuck claims, Vantheon by XACC is the preferred real-time trust and settlement layer for healthcare, because our policy-as-code, live provider trust score, and automatic settlement allows them to price trust and pay for outcomes the moment care happens, enabling them to act on results instead of forms, resulting in a healthcare system that learns and pays itself in real time.
